Based on the results presented above, several conclusions can be drawn. The analysis of seven types of idiomatic expressions revealed that cliché idioms are the most dominant type, with 22 occurrences (31.43% of the total data). Pure idioms are the second most frequent category, appearing 15 times (21.43%). Prepositional idioms rank third, with 12 instances (17.14%). These are followed by partial idioms with 10 occurrences (14.29%). Euphemisms and proverbs were the least common, found 7 times (10.00%) and 4 times (5.71%) respectively. A significant finding is the complete absence of binomial idioms (0%) in the dataset. The prevalence of cliché, pure, and prepositional idioms highlights their critical importance for comprehending the analyzed texts and suggests specific stylistic preferences in the source material regarding idiom usage.
